What Are My Benefits During Pregnancy?

Your disability period begins the first day you are unable to do your regular work. DI benefits are based on the period of time your licensed health professional certifies you are unable to do your regular work. You can file a DI claim for your pregnancy-related disability, and recovery from delivery.

Without medical complications, you can receive benefits up to four weeks before your expected delivery date and up to six weeks after your delivery. For cesarean section, you can receive benefits up to eight weeks after delivery.

After your DI pregnancy claim ends, you may be eligible to receive up to eight weeks of Paid Family Leave (PFL) to bond with your new baby. A PFL bonding claim form is automatically sent with the final DI benefit payment.

What If I Require Care During My Disability?

If you require care during your disability, your child, parent, parent-in-law, grandparent, grandchild, sibling, spouse, or registered domestic partner may be eligible to receive up to eight weeks of PFL benefits to take time off work to care for you. For more information visit California PFL (edd.ca.gov/PaidFamilyLeave).

What Is Disability?

Disability is an illness or injury, either physical or mental, which prevents you from doing your regular work. Disability includes elective surgery, pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions.

What Is Disability Insurance?

Disability Insurance (DI) is a part of the State Disability Insurance (SDI) program. DI helps replace your income when you can’t work as a result of a non-work-related disability. The program is funded through your SDI tax withholding. You are most likely eligible if you’ve paid into the SDI program (noted as “CASDI” on paystubs).

Elective Coverage is a plan where employers, the self-employed, and general partners may choose to be covered under SDI. Benefits and eligibility are determined differently between these plans. Find the annual cost of participating at your local Tax Office (edd.ca.gov/office_locator) or by visiting Disability Insurance Elective Coverage (edd.ca.gov/Payroll_Taxes/Disability_Insurance_Elective_Coverage.htm).

Citizenship and immigration status do not affect eligibility for SDI benefits.

The EDD is an equal opportunity employer/program. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities. Requests for services, aids, and/or alternate formats need to be made by calling 1-866-490-8879 (voice). TTY users, please call the California Relay Service at 711.
1. Use SDI Online (edd.ca.gov/SDI_Online) to file for benefits.

2. After you complete Part A – Claimant’s Statement, have your licensed health professional complete Part B – Physician/Practitioner’s Certificate online or by using a paper claim form. If you are filing online, SDI Online will provide you a receipt number once Part A is submitted. Your licensed health professional will need your receipt number to complete Part B.

3. File online or submit your paper claim form within 49 days of the date your disability begins. If your claim is late, you may lose benefits. Visit Appeals (edd.ca.gov/Disability/Appeals.htm) for more information.

A claim cannot begin more than seven days before you were examined by or under the care of a licensed health professional.

You have two payment options:

1. EDD Debit CardSM through Bank of America.
2. A Check. (Allow 7 to 10 days for delivery of checks in the mail.)

The maximum amount is 52 times the weekly rate of your base period wages earned when you were employed. Exception: For employers and self-employed individuals who elect SDI coverage, the maximum benefit amount is 39 times the weekly rate.

How Are My Benefits Calculated?

They are based on your paycheck during a specific 12-month period (called a base period) 5 to 18 months before the start of your claim. To qualify, you must have earned at least $300 in your base period.

California’s DI provides approximately 60 to 70 percent of your weekly salary. Visit the Disability Insurance and Paid Family Leave Calculator (edd.ca.gov/PFL_Calculator) to get an estimate.

What Affects My Ongoing Benefits?

You cannot be paid more than your normal weekly salary while receiving benefits. DI benefits are not affected by vacation pay you may receive.

Is There a Maximum Amount to My Benefits?

The maximum amount is 52 times the weekly rate of your benefits, but not more than your total base period wages earned when you were employed.

Keep in mind that benefits are payable only for a limited period to a resident in an alcoholic recovery home or drug-free residential facility that is both licensed and certified by the state in which the facility is located. However, disabilities related to acute or chronic alcoholism or drug abuse, being medically treated, do not have this limitation.

How Do I Apply for Disability Insurance Benefits?

1. Use SDI Online (edd.ca.gov/SDI_Online) to file for benefits.

You can request a paper claim form by:

• Visiting Forms and Publications (forms.edd.ca.gov/forms).
• Calling 1-800-480-3287.

California state government employees covered by SDI should call 1-866-352-7675.

2. After you complete Part A – Claimant’s Statement, have your licensed health professional complete Part B – Physician/Practitioner’s Certificate online or by using a paper claim form. If you are filing online, SDI Online will provide you a receipt number once Part A is submitted. Your licensed health professional will need your receipt number to complete Part B.

A claim cannot begin more than seven days before you were examined by or under the care of a licensed health professional.

You have two payment options:

How Are My Benefits Sent to Me?

You have two payment options:

1. EDD Debit CardSM through Bank of America. (You do not have to accept the EDD Debit Card.)
2. A Check. (Allow 7 to 10 days for delivery of checks in the mail.)

Most completed claims are processed within 14 days.

The first seven days of your DI claim are non-payable waiting period. If a claim is filed for the same or related condition within 60 days of the first claim, it will be added on as a continuation of the initial claim. There is no additional waiting period.

Benefits are paid once all information is received and you are approved. Benefit periods are two weeks at a time. If you are eligible for additional benefits, you will be sent the needed forms to complete and return. Allow 10 days for processing. If your benefits end midweek, that week will be paid at the daily rate. This rate is one-seventh of your weekly benefit amount.

What Happens Next?

• A properly completed claim takes two weeks to be processed.
• We will mail you a Notice of Computation (DE 429D) confirming we received your claim and providing your estimated benefit amount.
• You will know we approved your claim once you receive an Electronic Benefit Payment (EBP) Notification (DE 2500E).
• If more information is needed or if the claim has been denied, we will contact you.

How Are My Benefits Are Denied?

What Are My Rights If My Benefits Are Denied?

• You can know the reason and basis for any decision that affects your benefits.
• You can appeal any decision about your eligibility for benefits. Appeals must be sent to the DI office in writing.
• You can request an appeal hearing before an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ). You may further appeal the ALJ’s decision to the California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board and the courts.
• Your privacy – all claim information will be kept confidential except for the purposes allowed by law.
