I. CO-ENROLLMENT BENEFITS

The Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) Code of Federal Regulations dictates that all TAA eligible workers must have access to core and intensive services through the America’s Job Center of California℠ network. Co-enrollment in the TAA and Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) will ensure workers receive the benefits and services they may be eligible for under the TAA and WIOA programs.

Co-enrollment benefits for TAA eligible workers and the TAA program in California:

- TAA eligible worker access to core and intensive service.
- TAA eligible worker access to TAA training and Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA) benefits.
- TAA eligible worker access to supportive services.

Note: Supportive services include orientations, basic education, counseling, workshops, child care assistance, comprehensive assessments, job referrals, job placement, and any other services necessary to prepare a worker for full employment in accordance with the worker’s capabilities and employment opportunities.

Co-enrollment benefits for WIOA partners:

- Training costs are paid by TAA funding.
- No specific limit to the number of qualified TAA eligible workers that can receive services.
- The TAA program is able to provide assistance to all training needs (e.g., remedial education, prerequisite education, higher education, and vocational training).
II. PURPOSE AND POLICY

PURPOSE: The procedures in this Technical Assistance Guide are designed to promote cooperative partnerships, maximize resources, and establish requirements for determining and verifying the eligibility of co-enrollment of applicants for the TAA and WIOA programs. These procedures should be used in conjunction with existing procedures and manuals.

POLICY: To determine program eligibility, provide assessments and employability plans, identify services and resources, develop training plans, enroll in training, provide job placement assistance, and conduct follow-up employment services.
III. DEFINITION OF TERMS

- America's Job Center of California℠ (AJCC)
  A single, nationwide network that assists job seekers to explore career opportunities, find education and training, search for employment, and provide business services to employers.

- Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA)
  The TAA program is a federal program that assists U.S. workers who have lost or may lose their jobs as a result of foreign trade. The program seeks to provide adversely affected workers with opportunities to obtain the skills, credentials, resources, and support necessary to become reemployed.
  Provides funding for additional weekly benefits, training, job search allowances, relocation allowances, wage subsidies for older workers, and reemployment services.

- Employment Development Department (EDD)
  The EDD is part of the Labor and Workforce Development Agency of the executive branch of the State of California. The EDD offers a variety of services to millions of Californians which includes job services, Unemployment Insurance, Disability Insurance, Workforce Investment Act programs, and labor market information.

- Trade Readjustment Allowance (TRA)
  Provides additional weekly Unemployment Insurance benefits to trade affected workers.

- TAA Staff or State Merit Staff
  State merit staff from the Employment Development Department who administer the TAA program within each state.

- Eligible Worker
  A worker from a TAA certified company. The worker’s company provided confirmation to the EDD that verifies the worker lost their job due to trade.

- Special Claims Office (SCO) 850
  State merit staff who determines eligibility for TAA benefits, TRA benefits, TAA job search, and relocation allowances.

- Cooperating State Agency (CSA)
  The agency assigned by the Governor to administer the TAA program. In the state of California, the CSA for the TAA program is the Employment Development Department.

- State Workforce Development Board
  Appointed by the Governor to assist in the implementation and development of a statewide system of workforce investment carried out through the America's Job Center of California℠ network.
• Workforce Development Board
  Refers to the entity responsible for administering the WIOA program in a particular region or area.

• Co-enrollment
  Enrollment in the TAA program and at least one other program that operates as part of the WIOA America’s Job Center of California™ network, such as the adult program under WIOA.

• Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA)

• Local Workforce Development Area (local area)
  Local areas are designated by the Governor to provide information and re-employment services to the public through the America’s Job Center of California™ network.

• Trade Affected Workers
  Workers whose company has been affected by trade and are either laid off or threatened with layoff as a direct result of increased imports, or a shift in production to other countries.

• WIOA Core Services
  Universal access to utilize information and self-directed job search activities.
  - Self-directed: No eligibility requirements.
  - Local area staff assisted: Eligibility requirements apply.

• Eligible Training Provider List (ETPL)
  The approved statewide WIOA training vendor list.
  Note: TAA-funded training may be provided by training providers not on the ETPL.
  It is also not a requirement that all TAA-funded training providers be an accredited training provider. Non-accredited training providers can be used for the TAA program, but they are required to provide a curriculum that prepares a worker for employment at the completion of a training program and that helps the worker meet requirements of the six criteria for training approval. However, if a training provider grants training certifications (e.g., phlebotomist, certified nursing assistant), they must be an accredited training provider.

• Rapid Response (RR)
  Rapid Response provides information to workers, employers, worker representatives, and the community. The information concerns the availability of services such as unemployment compensation, labor market information and strategies for re-employment, as well as Trade Act program information.
IV. RAPID RESPONSE PRINCIPLES
(Suggested Policies and Procedures)

Rapid Response practitioners provide information to workers, employers, worker representatives, and the community. The information concerns the availability of services such as unemployment compensation, labor market information and strategies for re-employment, as well as Trade Act program information where appropriate. In order to maximize the utility of the information, it needs to be consistent, accurate, locally-driven, and timely. Also, in the best situations, information will be specific to the worksite and will include non-job-specific referrals to services and agencies. Rapid Response staff and their partners at the state and local level must engage in an ongoing information gathering process and establish contacts that can provide information for dislocated workers.

The delivery of services provided by different agencies, programs, or groups needs to be seamless; that is, the differences in programs or source of funding should be invisible to the customer. In order for this to occur, thorough coordination among partners and stakeholders is essential. The basis of coordination is a solid understanding of one another’s goals and practices and a willingness to work together so the customers (the workers and employer) have a smooth and productive experience. A good communication system among all parties is essential.

Written agreements, procedures, and common information systems help establish a seamless delivery of services. Standardized written agreements such as a Memorandum of Operation can be used as a framework to customize agreements to each local area. A standardized outline of information presented during Rapid Response sessions should also be utilized.

Partnerships are key to the success of a seamless delivery of information during Rapid Response sessions. Partnerships are also key in ensuring dislocated workers are co-enrolled among agencies to ensure the allocation of additional resources and information to address a dislocation. Some common partners that are involved in Rapid Response events are the local America’s Job Center of California™ network, Unemployment Insurance, Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA), labor representatives, local economic development agencies, and Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training (TAACCCT) grant partners. Other groups that may be involved in dislocation events include a variety of America’s Job Center of California™ network partners such as vocational rehabilitation, child care agencies, mental health services, and community-based organizations.

The following is a recommended outline to conduct consistent and accurate Rapid Response sessions statewide for trade affected workers.

Reporting instructions are to be completed showing the name of the organization (the EDD or local area), the agency contact person, and the address of the agency.

The agency contact person should complete all the appropriate items in the "REFERRAL INFORMATION" section. If the purpose of the referral is not one of those listed, then "Other" should be checked and an explanation of the purpose of the referral inserted. The referrer completes the name of the organization, name and title of staff being referred to, his/her telephone number, and the date of referral.

If the referral is coming from a local area case manager, attach the following documents to the referral form:
• Assessment and/or testing results (Wonderlic, Choices, etc.).
• WIOA application.
• Reason for WIOA/TAA co-enrollment if other than payment of training costs.

TAA INFORMATION (To be completed by the EDD only) (Section 3)

If the EDD is the referring agency, EDD staff will complete this section showing the pertinent information. The status of the petition is obtained from the Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA) conference board located on EDDNet. The customer information is obtained either from the customer’s approval letter from Special Claims Office 850 or from the Unemployment Insurance claim notes.

OUTCOME (Section 4)

The OUTCOME section is to be used to exchange information between local area and the EDD regarding status in WIOA components, enrollment in training, completion of training, job placement, or other activities that are relevant to case management. It is imperative that both the local area and the EDD work closely together to meet the goals of each of their respective programs. Both the local area and the EDD must agree on a client’s training program before training is approved and training begins.

The signature and phone number are to be completed by the referring agency representative.
IX. TAA TRAINING CRITERIA
(For Reference Purposes)

Before TAA training can be approved, each TAA eligible worker must meet all six criteria for the approval of TAA-funded training.

Criteria #1: There is no suitable employment available for the adversely affected eligible worker. Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 617.22(a)(1)(i).
For the eligible worker whom approval of training is being considered, no suitable employment is available at that time for that eligible worker, either in the commuting area, or outside the commuting area (which is an area the eligible worker desires to relocate with the assistance of relocation allowance), and there is no reasonable prospect of suitable employment becoming available in the foreseeable future.

Note: Suitable employment is employment with a wage equal or higher-skilled level not less than 80 percent of wages from previous trade affected employment.

Criteria #2: The eligible worker would benefit from appropriate training. CFR 617.22(a)(2). There is a direct relationship between the needs of the eligible worker for skills training or remedial education and what would be provided by the training program under consideration for the eligible worker. In addition, the eligible worker has the mental and physical capabilities to undertake, make satisfactory progress in, and complete the training. This includes the further criterion that the eligible worker will be job ready on completion of the training.

Criteria #3: There is a reasonable expectation of employment following completion of training. CFR 617.22(a)(3)(i).
Given the job market conditions expected to exist at the time of the completion of the training program, there is, fairly and objectively considered, a reasonable expectation that the eligible worker will find a job, using the skills and education acquired while in training, after completion of the training.

Criteria #4: Training is reasonably available to the worker. CFR 617.22(a)(4).
Training is reasonably accessible to the eligible worker within the eligible worker’s commuting area. First consideration shall be given to training within the eligible worker’s normal commuting area. Training outside the eligible worker’s commuting area should be approved only if such training is not available in the eligible worker’s normal commute area.

Criteria #5: The worker is qualified to undertake and complete the approved training. CFR 617.22(a)(5).
Emphasis must be placed on the eligible worker’s personal qualifications to undertake and complete approved training. Evaluation of the eligible worker’s personal qualifications must include the eligible worker’s physical and mental capabilities, educational background, work experience, and financial resources, and all the above must be adequate to undertake and complete the specific training program being considered.

(Evaluation of the eligible worker’s financial ability shall include an analysis of the eligible worker’s remaining weeks of UI and TRA payments in relation to the duration of the training program).
Criteria #6: Training is suitable for the worker and available at a reasonable cost.

CFR 617.22(a)(6)(i)(ii).

Available at a reasonable cost means training may not be approved at one provider when, all costs being considered, training is substantially similar in quality and content, and results can be obtained from another provider at a lower total cost within a similar time frame. (It is up to the TAA specialists to determine which training program is the most cost effective; given the training program time frame, content, and certificates.) Costs of a training program shall include tuition and related expenses (books, tools, and academic fees), travel or transportation expenses, and subsistence expenses. An application for training shall be denied if it is for training in an occupational area which requires an extraordinary high skill level and for which the total costs of the training are substantially higher than the costs of other training which is suitable for the eligible worker.

XI. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON TAA AND WIOA
POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Q1. What training provider options does TAA staff have?
A1. TAA staff can choose the following training provider options:
   - California’s Eligible Training Provider List (ETPL). The ETPL lists qualified training providers, including locations (city, county, and state), fees, programs, occupations, and apprenticeship programs.
   - WIOA-approved training is an approvable TAA training option.
   - The 2009, 2011, and 2014 Trade Acts provide that training options available under the TAA program are not limited to training programs available under WIOA. TAA training may be provided by training providers not on the ETPL. It is also not a requirement that all training providers be an accredited training provider. Non-accredited training providers can be used for the TAA program. But these training providers are required to provide a curriculum that prepares an eligible worker for employment at the completion of a training program and that helps the eligible worker meet requirements of the six criteria for TAA training approval. However, if a training provider grants training certifications (e.g., phlebotomist, certified nursing assistant), they must be an accredited training provider.

Q2. Can an eligible worker enrolled in TAA-funded training be employed?
A2. Yes, TAA eligible workers can be employed while in training; however, their Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits may be affected.

Q3. What happens if partners (TAA staff, partner staff, or eligible workers) disagree on the type of training?
A3. TAA staff has the final decision on whether to approve or deny training. (Their decision will be based on whether the eligible worker meets the six criteria for the approval of TAA training.) If the eligible worker disagrees with the final decision, he or she can appeal (appeal rights are on the back of an application for TAA training, DE 8320). If the partner disagrees with the decision, they may choose not to be involved with co-enrollment of the eligible worker. However, a coordinated agreement between all partners on the approved training plan is essential to the successful outcome of the co-enrollment process.

Q4. Can partners use an eligible worker’s TAA Training Plan, DE 8751, in lieu of the partners Individual Employment Plan (IEP)?
A4. Yes. However, the answer will vary based on the internal policies of the partner.

Q5. Can an eligible workers records and information be shared?
A5. Yes, as long as the eligible worker grants their permission by signing the TAA/WIOA referral form, DE 8308. However, if the TAA program and partners have a Memorandum of Operation (MOO) in place within the eligible worker’s local area and its guidelines states a different policy; the guidelines of the MOO must be followed.

Note: When necessary, UI Code Section 1094 and 1095 and the EDD Information Practices
Handbook allow information to be shared.
Q6. Can one partner's eligible worker monitoring results be accepted by the other?
A6. Eligible worker monitoring is the responsibility of the funding agency. The sharing of eligible worker monitoring reports is allowed if an eligible worker signs a TAA/WIOA referral form, DE 8308.

Q7. Can partners do assessments for TAA eligible workers without the registration of the eligible worker in their program (i.e., WIOA program)?
A7. No. An eligible worker must be registered in a partner program prior to an individual assessment.

Q8. What options are available for partners that consider co-enrollment procedures and paperwork an extra administrative burden?
A8. It is the intent of co-enrollment to leverage (i.e., cost of training/workload) TAA program coordination and partner resources, allowing both systems to provide the most comprehensive services to the greatest number of individuals.

Q9. What specific criteria will be used to determine a need for referral?
A9. TAA staff may refer an eligible worker when an eligible worker’s employer has received a TAA certification and the eligible worker has filed an Application for Trade Adjustment Assistance, DE 8309 form. Partner staff may refer an eligible worker if/when they determine an eligible worker’s previous employment was trade affected.

Q10. What are the criteria to co-enroll?
A10. Co-enrollment is determined by two factors:
- The eligible worker must be eligible for both programs (TAA and WIOA). In most cases a trade-eligible worker will be eligible for WIOA services. However, WIOA requires compliance with Selective Service registration; the Trade Act program does not.
- The co-enrollment plan must be feasible for both agencies.

Q11. What are the time limitations to be eligible for TAA weekly benefits?
- 2002 and 2014 Trade Act eligible workers: Must enroll in training within 8 weeks of certification or 16 weeks of layoff (whichever is later).
- 2009 and 2011 Trade Act eligible workers: Must enroll in training within 26 weeks of either certification or layoff.

Q12. How does TAA staff keep partner staff informed on an eligible worker’s progress while in training? What information will be shared?
A12. Communication and coordination is critical to the success of co-enrollment. It is suggested staff involved with an eligible worker’s co-enrollment partnership develop an ongoing internal communication process.
An eligible worker’s information may be shared between TAA staff and partners as long as an eligible worker has signed a TAA/WIOA referral form, DE 8308.
Q13. When TAA staff determines a need to extend training beyond an eligible worker’s original training end date, how is the change communicated to partner staff?
A13. TAA staff will inform partner staff through their ongoing internal communication process. Partner staff will document the change in the eligible worker’s IEP.

Q14. How does the TAA program define “local area” for labor market, job search, and relocation?
A14. The TAA program considers a “normal commute” to be 25 miles each way or one hour each way. The TAA program uses the same parameters when considering labor market or eligibility for job search and relocation allowances.

Q15. Which WIOA funding sources can/should be utilized for co-enrollment of TAA eligible workers?
A15. Theoretically, co-enrollment could occur in almost any WIOA funding.

Q16. Besides tuition, what may be included in training allowances?
A16. Any items(s) that a vendor/training provider normally requires for a training program (e.g., books, tools, uniforms/safety equipment, is permitted as a training allowance). Other allowances may include transportation (if outside a normal commute) and subsistence (in extreme cases) where training is not locally available.

Q17. Are eligible workers, who have accepted intermittent “stop-gap” employment since their original lay-off, still eligible for Trade Act benefits?
A17. Intermittent stop-gap employment will not automatically disqualify eligible workers for benefits including job search and relocation allowances, and/or tuition, as long as they meet applicable TAA criteria. (Affected workers may/may not be eligible for Trade Readjustment Assistance [TRA] weekly benefits.)

Q18. Are affected workers, who are separated from a subsequent job(s) after qualifying for TAA benefits through previous employment still eligible for TAA benefits?
A18. Post-layoff employment from a subsequent job(s) will not automatically disqualify affected workers for benefits including job search and relocation allowances, and/or tuition, as long as they meet applicable TAA criteria. (Affected workers may/may not be eligible for Trade Readjustment Assistance [TRA] weekly benefits.)
Q19. Can TAA training reimbursements be made retroactively to training vendors/partners, etc.?
A19. No. Per the federal regulations of the TAA program, training reimbursements cannot be made retroactively. If an eligible worker is in partner funded training, the TAA program can pick up the funding for that training at a regularly scheduled break in training (quarter, semester, and holiday break).

Q20. Can training be approved outside of California?
A20. TAA-funded training may be approved anywhere within the United States as long as it is unavailable in an eligible worker’s local area.

Q21. Is training required for TRA benefits under TAA?
A21. Training is mandatory for an eligible worker to receive Additional TRA (A6 UI claim).

Q22. Are basic reemployment services, workshops, etc. considered training for the purpose of the TAA program?
A22. No.

Q23. What is the impact of federal educational grants on TRA weekly benefits?
A23. Educational grants or Pell Grants will not affect an eligible worker’s TRA weekly benefits.

Q24. To what extent does “customer choice” exist when it comes to deciding on training?
A24. Training for a co-enrolled eligible worker will be determined by the TAA staff, partner staff, and the eligible worker as agreed upon in the development of the eligible worker’s training plan.
